Inspired & Ready? How to Bring Your New Learning Space to Life

A well-designed learning space allows students to thrive! Planning a new learning environment? Or perhaps a space needs a makeover? Let's get your mind flowing with possibilities!

Tips for selecting colour

Colour is a great place to start. It's often smart to use a neutral tone that works well for some of the more permanent elements of your space, such as walls, carpet or shelving. More defined colour can be introduced to create organisation, interest and balance within the space.

60-30-10 rule

One tip to achieve a cohesive look is to choose three shades and break them down using the 60-30-10 rule.

What's your vision?

Beyond desks in the classroom, you might create a makerspace for coding or 3D printing. You may want a weather-resistant outdoor space where students can learn closer to nature. You may be planning a communal hub in the library for classes to gather.

1 Room goals

What's the end-goal? Think about how you want students to feel when they enter... and what you need to engage them.

2 Learning zones

Do you want specific zones for tech or quiet time, or shared zones such as a reading, art or STEAM zone? Open shelving can create a divider but still allow sight lines. A cushion breakout area is always popular.

3 Table talk

Tables and chairs are fundamentals. Consider needs such as collaboration, group work or flexibility. Then think about sizes, shape or heights that will meet your goals.

4 Storage is everything!

Smart storage – where you can stow things away, move them around (hello, wheels and portability) and somewhere you can display items – are all good to consider.

5 Audio visual allies

Some new audio visual equipment, such as an interactive flat panel may put new energy into the space. For a blended learning approach with more digital tech, consider tech stations for iPads or laptops.

6 Plan for lighting

Think beyond overhead lighting... maybe you'll need task lights at workstations, pendant lamps over counters and floor lamps near lounge chairs.

7 Materials & fabrics

Just as colour creates harmony within a space, so too can upholstery fabric patterns. Lounge seating is one of the best places to incorporate patterned fabrics.

8 Resource-ready

We can help with that makerspace, shelving units or mobile trolleys, then help you fill them with resources... from art and craft supplies to books, science essentials or sporting equipment.

Unlock ideas with an MTA Discovery Session

Talking through some of your pedagogical needs or wish list items will help you plan your space more efficiently. MTA Consultants take you through a purposeful 'Discovery Session' to help unlock your ideas such as theme, colour scheme and the type of learning you want students to experience in the space.

Hot trends in 2024

Post-pandemic, schools are celebrating meaningful in-person teaching, while keeping an eye on changes if & when needed:

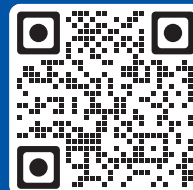

- ✓ Curves & cubes: fluid lines contrast beautifully with the symmetry of cubes
- ✓ Colour: bright & vibrant is on trend (did the rainbow ever go out of fashion?)
- ✓ Textures: rugs, cork, chalk, natural & sensory elements invite both stimulation & calm
- ✓ Portable power: cool carts & trolleys, mobile whiteboards, even mobile desks & chairs
- ✓ Flexible layouts: easily re-arranged desk configurations, chairs & dividers
- ✓ Zones are in: for me-time, chill-time, small groups, independent learning & wellbeing

MTA's full-service offering

- Tailored proposal & quote
- 3D modelling for large projects
- Delivery & installation
- Continuity of care/after-sales support with your MTA Consultant
- One-stop solution to fill your learning space: from tech products & furniture to educational resources
- A knowledgeable product team with education experience & pedagogical expertise

When you're ready to create or revive a learning space, book an MTA Discovery Session, find some inspiration within these pages or scan the QR code to find out more.
